作者的話:

My name is Gayatri Joshi and I am an Indian. I study in Marymount Secondary School, in form 3. In my Chinese comic there are four characters.

The setting takes place in a house where these four friends live together. But suddenly one day, one of the friends disappears and there is a note left behind by the kidnapper. The remaining three friends follow the address given on the note in order to find their friend. But as they reach the assigned place, another friend goes missing. With only two friends left, they decide to go back home as they were very frightened. But when they reached home, they couldn't believe their eyes, they saw their two lost friends' right in front of their eyes wishing them "Happy April fool's day". This story present the funny idea we have as students and friends, we like to play with each other happily, sometimes we may even trick them, but in the end we all sit and laugh about it together, this is the power of our community, we are united and we believe in friendship, I hope you all readers also treasure your friendship with others, as they may become useful one day to you! I sincerely thank you Mrs. Razvi who been guiding us all along for this picture book and I would like to thank HKU for giving me this opportunity to write picture book.
